

AIRPLANE TRAFFIC CONFUSES CENSUS

What Are British Enumerators to Do With These Flying Persons?

DIRIGIBLES FIGURE, TOO

War Has Done Strange Things to Men Who Are Hired to Be Statisticians.

London, June 18.

England is to-day "counting noses" in her thirteenth great census, but meanwhile the curious features of the law, which offer as many new and troublesome problems as does that supposedly unlucky number thirteen, are impressing 38,000 enumerators. They are wondering what they will do in connection with ships arriving in and leaving English ports and airships and airplanes overhead, for the appropriation for taking the census gives them little opportunity of meeting the requirements in this respect.

Under the British law a census is merely a count of the population at a given moment. If any Englishman is temporarily absent from the country at that given moment, there is no need for him to fill in the census form.

All passengers aboard vessels in English waters Sunday night will have to be included in the census, but vessels leaving these ports to-day will not be troubled to fill in the forms. Crews of fishing vessels plying along the coasts will be difficult to get hold of, but the enumerators have been sending out census forms with these vessels and will collect them when the vessels return to port. Passengers entering England aboard steamships to-day must be counted. Also with this be true of the crew of the dirigible R-38 if she comes overhead, as she has been coming every day this week for the Ascot races. Airplanes coming from and going to France daily must be counted and their passengers and crews counted quickly, because once outside the British Isles they cannot be annoyed in this regard. Old timers in the taking of the census say this form of travel opens up a dreadful prospect for them in their future work, for with the growth of aerial traffic they think that in another ten years they will need fast scout airplanes in order to chase these fliers and make them sign the census returns or else will have to drive them out of British air until the count is finished.

The first British census was taken in 1801 and has been repeated every ten years since then. Statisticians are looking forward to the returns of this census with unusual interest, wondering what the war has really done to the British Isles. They believe the population has grown appreciably, despite war losses, largely because emigration was checked by the war.

Ireland takes her own census, so that Sinn Féin activities there can be judged in this respect.

CUBAN SUGAR BONDS TO HELP SALES ABROAD

Government Plans Loan for Surplus and Grant Credits.

HAVANA, June 18.—A projected purchase with $40,000,000 in bonds of Cuba's surplus sugar by the Government, which will then dispose of the surplus on long term credits to foreign countries unable to buy in the open market, was discussed at to-day's meeting of the Cabinet with President Alfredo Zayas. The bonds, it is proposed, would bear 6 per cent, mature in twenty-nine years and be guaranteed by a tax of 36 cents on each sack of elaborated sugar produced in the republic.

Cuban officials are silent regarding reports of serious disorders on the Pinar sugar estate, in the province of Santa Clara. The reports of the disorders were said to emanate from Kingston, Jamaica, and asserted that persons had been killed. The disorders, it was said, were caused by Jamaicans who have been working in Santa Clara.

FIRST FIST FIGHT IS STAGED IN REICHSTAG

Women Join Communists and Nationalists' Battle.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, June 18.—A hand-to-hand scrimmage, the first in the history of the Reichstag, interrupted that body's discussion late yesterday of the murder of Herr Garselt, Bavarian Independent Socialist leader, in Munich recently. The participants were Nationalists and Communists.

When Herr Mittelmann, the Nationalist leader, was alleged to have approved a statement to the effect that it would be "a good thing for Bavaria if 5,000 Communists were lined up and shot," Deputies Rummel and Thier, Communists, ran over to the Nationalist section and assaulted Herr Mittelmann. Other Deputies rushed up and tried to separate the combatants, and two women Deputies became involved in the melee.

MEXICAN OFFICERS SET FREE, LACKING EVIDENCE

Noriega and Artigas Suspected of Part in Revolt.

MEXICO CITY, June 18.—Miguel Gomez Noriega, former Governor of the Federal district, and Gen. Francisco Artigas Barbedillo, an officer in the Federal army, both of whom were arrested in connection with the recent abortive revolutionary attempt in the State of Oaxaca, were released from custody last night, the military authorities being unable to substantiate the charges against them.

It was stated that Gen. Carlos Garcia, who also was arrested in connection with the attempted revolt, probably would be released to-day because of the lack of evidence against him.

PLEBISCITE OFF IN STYRIA.
